

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

VOLUME XXVI.—NO. 16.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1911.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GRAND BAZAR

The Most Elaborate of Its Kind Ever Held About Falls Cities.

Will Open Monday Morning and Continue Until Saturday Night.

All Are Invited to Assist Father
Raffo in His Cherished Work.

MAYOR HEAD WILL OFFICIATE

The bazar to be given from April 24 to April 29 inclusive at Liederkranz Hall for the benefit of the new and handsome Church of St. Charles Borromeo, being erected at Twenty-seventh and Chestnut streets by the Rev. Charles P. Raffo, gives every indication of being one of the most elaborate and successful affairs of the kind ever held in this city.

The doors will swing open on Monday morning at 10 o'clock and will remain open until late Saturday evening. Mayor William O. Head, the members of the Boards of Public Safety and Public Works and other prominent city officials have been specially invited to be present for dinner on the opening day and to formally put into motion the wheels of the bazar.

The widespread encouragement and generous support which has been shown the bazar workers from all sides give every assurance that this bazar shall be a social, entertaining, artistic and financial success. So many useful, ornamental and valuable articles have been received as donations from the various merchants and business houses of the city that the interior of the bazar will present a regular fairy land of practical and beautiful objects. It would be almost impossible to enumerate even the most costly articles, but a fine piano, an excellent gramophone, a diamond ring, lady's and gentleman's gold watch, clock, blue-blooded chickens, stoves, automatic swing, hand embroidered linens, furniture, ornaments and so on will be prominent. So varied will be the assortment of goods and good things that one need but express the wish to see any particular thing and it will be shown him.

The new church, of which the beloved and well known Rev. Charles P. Raffo is pastor, and for which this bazar is being given, will be a most beautiful, stately and God-like edifice. It will cost when completed in the neighborhood of $60,000. It will be an ornament and a matter of architectural pride for not only the West End but also for the city at large—a house which for years to come will be the center for the moral and religious uplift of the community. The congregation of St. Charles Borromeo, having for years made no appeal for assistance to the public and having always been among the leaders in the conduct of bazars, etc., for other institutions, feel that in shouldering this unusual burden they have a reasonable and just right to request the co-operation and assistance of those outside the immediate parish in this undertaking.

The corps of bazar workers in charge are sufficiently experienced to smoothly and delightfully manage every detail of the coming event. Those who visit the bazar may rest assured that entertainment and social features will play a prominent part and they need not fear that they will be hurried to death by solicitors, nor their pocketbook drained to its last drop of blood. During meal hours there will be absolutely no soliciting in the dining room, so that those who desire to visit the bazar simply for the meals may come and go without the slightest interference. No special nights will be set aside for any societies or particular classes, but any organization which desires to select a definite night and attend in a body will be welcome. The general arrangements for the booths, dining room and other features will be largely similar to previous affairs of this nature, but many novelties and special attractions will be offered.

Dinner will be served daily from 11 till 2 o'clock and supper from 5 till 7 o'clock. The tables will be laden with all the dainties of the season, served and prepared by the ladies of the congregation. The menu will be sufficiently attractive and varied to suit the most fastidious, and special attention will be given so that everyone will be served promptly and satisfactorily. Tickets for either dinner or supper will be sold at twenty-five cents. The Chairlady in charge of this department announces the following specialties as the "leaders" of the menu card:

Monday—Prime roast and spring vegetables, etc.
Tuesday—East coast with appropriate side dishes and desserts.
Wednesday—Chicken and ice cream.
Thursday—Spaghetti Italiane, veal and lamb and desserts.
Friday—Fish and fancy salads.
Saturday—An ensemble of German favorites.

A cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the readers of the Kentucky Irish American to visit the bazar, to partake of some of the excellent repasts that will be furnished in the dining room, and to thus lend what little assistance they are able toward constructing the sacred edifice now building to serve for the honor and glory of God in our community.

MOURNS MOTHER.

Friends of E. J. O'Brien
Extend Their Sincere Sympathy.

The entire community sympathizes with Edward J. O'Brien in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Nash, who died at noon on Good Friday.

She was her eldest son and only surviving child. Mr. O'Brien's father died when he was quite small, and his good Irish mother was his adviser, his preceptor and companion in all things. When he was weary of the day's work it was to her he turned for comfort and repose. She shared his every joy and every sorrow. May she rest in peace and may perpetual light shine upon her.

Mrs. Nash was born in the County Cavan, Ireland, seventy-nine years ago, but came to America in her girlhood. She was one of the oldest members of St. Patrick's congregation. A fortnight ago her granddaughter, Miss Marie O'Brien, was injured in an automobile accident. It is believed that the fear that her granddaughter was seriously hurt hastened the death of the grandmother. Mrs. Nash was noted for her many charities. Her hand was ever ready to deal out help to the poor and afflicted. While her remains repose in the casket at the family residence, 1821 West Jefferson street, hundreds of friends and acquaintances have gathered to make it a shrine to offer prayers for the repose of her soul.

The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church on Monday morning after a solemn mass of requiem. The church was filled with friends who desired to pay their last respects to the remains of Mrs. Mary A. Nash.

GRAND WORK

Done by Division 3's Team
at Big Hibernian Meeting.

Local Hibernians are still congratulating one another over the gathering at Falls City Hall Tuesday night under the auspices of Division 1. Several hundred members were present and each of the four divisions was well represented. The meeting was planned with a view to having the initiation of a class of waiting candidates and a social session with refreshments. Not a plan miscarried. All who attended were lighted with the new fire of Easter Hibernianism. The Reception Committee, made up of James Barry, Thomas Walsh and Thomas Tarpey, was on hand early and helped to make things pleasant for all comers.

President William Murphy called the meeting to order and made a brief address of welcome. The Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., opened the meeting with prayer. Only the necessary routine business was transacted, after which the work of initiation was entered upon. There were thirty-three candidates present, some from Division 1 and others from Division 3. The work was put in charge of the degree team took his part well, and at the conclusion of the initiation exercises Father Cronin expressed his approval of all he had seen and heard and complimented the work of the degree team, commending especially the work of Sgt. Maloney.

Frank Kinney, who has been ill for several weeks, was recited upon. Division 3's degree team took his part well, and at the conclusion of the initiation exercises Father Cronin expressed his approval of all he had seen and heard and complimented the work of the degree team, commending especially the work of Sgt. Maloney.

President Murphy then turned the meeting over to the Literary Committee, which is made up of Thomas Keenan, Sr., Charles Finegan, Thomas Lawler and Louis Rolter. These gentlemen have provided a bounteous supply of refreshments of all kinds and plenty of cigars. New and old Hibernians regaled themselves and spent an hour or more in chatting over the events of the evening. All left with the hope that Division 1 would soon give another initiation and social session.

HAYDON—BROWN.

Miss Anna Clara Haydon, one of Pewee Valley's most charming girls, and David S. Brown, of Louisville, were quietly married in the parlors of St. John's rectory at 7 o'clock on Monday morning. The Rev. Father William Boes, pastor of the parish at Pewee Valley, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have gone to Chicago to spend a week or ten days. The fortunate groom is a general advertising distributor for all the railroads of Louisville.

PASSIONISTS

The World Over Will Celebrate Feast of St. Paul of the Cross.

Local Observation of the Day
at Sacred Heart Retreat
Next Week.

Something About the Men Who Preach the Story of the Passion.

FRIENDS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME

All over the world the priests and lay brothers of the Passionist order will celebrate the feast of St. Paul of the Cross on Friday, April 28. St. Paul of the Cross was the founder of the order, which has grown to great proportions and whose priests are noted for their eloquence and missionary zeal. In Louisville the day will be appropriately observed at Sacred Heart Retreat, Newburg road. There will be a solemn high mass at 9 o'clock. During the day the Passionist Fathers will bless religious articles and from time to time will bless those assembled with the relic of St. Paul. Catholics from all parts of the city and county will make Sacred Heart Retreat a shrine of devotion on St. Paul's day.

St. Paul of the Cross was born in Genoa, Italy, in 1694. Early in life he was noted for his piety, and when he was twenty-six years old he put on the habit now worn by his followers. The soutane is much like that worn by secular clergy. Over the soutane hangs a heart, suspended from the neck with a cross above it. A black leather sash is belted around the waist. In the monasteries the members of the community wear sandals instead of shoes.

In 1721 St. Paul went to Rome to have the rules of his order confirmed. Sanction was withheld for many years, and meanwhile the young man ordained a priest. All obstacles being at length removed, he established the first monastery of his order at Argentina in 1737. The rules of the congregation were confirmed by Benedict XIV. in 1741. Clement XIV. showed the fathers marked favors and conferred on them the house and church of Sts. John and Paul on the Coelian Hill, Rome. There the holy founder took up his abode, and there he died in 1775. After his death the congregation extended rapidly, but for a while only in Italy. Paul's most settled purpose in life was the conversion of England, but it was not until 1842 that his followers obtained a footing there. The first Provincial was Rev. Father Ignatius Spencer, a convert from Anglicanism. Now the Passionists have a half-dozen communities in Great Britain. They also have houses in the United States, Belgium, Australia, Roumania and Bulgaria.

The life of a Passionist is quite austere. They fast three days in every week as well as observe the fast of Lent and Advent. They wear nothing on their feet save sandals. They rise at night to say matins, and recite the office in choir at all canonical hours. Besides the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience the Passionists take a fourth—to keep alive in the hearts of the faithful our Lord's passion. On the day of their profession they make a vow of perseverance in the congregation.

The Passionists were introduced into the United States in 1852 by the Right Rev. Michael O'Connor, Bishop of Pittsburgh. The first colony consisted of three priests and one lay brother. The Superior was Father Anthony Calandri, who died April 27, 1878. In 1859 the Passionists were enabled to start a second house at Dunkirk, in the diocese of Buffalo. Applications from devout American youths were not wanting, and in 1861 a third house of the order was founded at Hoboken, N. J. In 1863 the three houses were erected into a Province with Father Dominic Tarlatini as Provincial. Later retreats were built in Cincinnati, Baltimore, Louisville, in the archdiocese of St. Louis, Chicago and other points. Besides the Passionists have foundations in Mexico and Buenos Ayres.

The method of the Passionists in conducting missions is practically the same as that followed by other missionaries, but the prominence given in their preaching to the mysteries of our Lord's passion is found to be singularly effective in rousing the negligent and stimulating the devout to still greater fervor. The Passionists will welcome you if you visit Sacred Heart Retreat on the occasion of the feast of St. Paul of the Cross.

COLORED CATHOLICS' CHURCH.
The Rev. Father Joseph Hogarty, of Lebanon, soon expects to build a church and school for colored Catholics in that city. At present there are seventy-five devout colored Catholic families in Lebanon.

PRAYERS FOR HEROES.

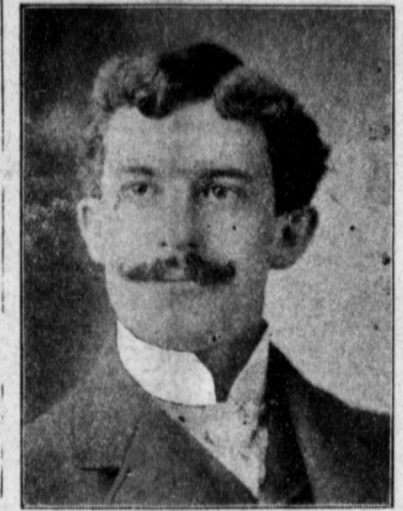

At New York next Wednesday there will be a memorial mass for all the members of the Sixty-ninth Regiment who left the parish on April 23, 1861, never to return, and for those who have died since the close of the war of the rebellion. Nearly all the members of the regiment live around old St. Patrick's, where the regiment gathered, after hearing mass, to march to the boat. An old photograph taken at the time may still be seen hanging on the walls of the rectory in Mulberry street.

SOLEMN SERVICES

Marked the Obsequies of
T. J. Cody Tuesday Morning.

With solemn impressiveness funeral services were held over the remains of Thomas J. Cody, traffic manager for the Central Consumers' Company, at St. Anthony's church on Tuesday morning. The solemn mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Dr. O. P. Ackermann, a brother-in-law of the deceased. While this mass was in progress at the main altar low masses of requiem were being celebrated on the two side altars. The church was filled with mourning relatives and friends. After the mass the remains were laid to rest in St. Michael's cemetery. Death came to Mr. Cody after several years of suffering from a complication of diseases. He had traveled all over the United States and a greater part of Europe in a vain endeavor to restore his health. Death came to him with the dawn of Easter Sunday. Sorrow was expressed all over the city when the announcement of his death was made. His remains rested at the home of his father-in-law, P. L. Ackermann, 2114 West Market street, until the funeral on Tuesday. From the time the remains were placed in the casket until the funeral cortege left the house there was one continual stream of old friends calling to pay their respects to his memory.

Mr. Cody was born at Goshen, N. Y., thirty-eight years ago. He was bereft of both father and mother when he was thirteen months old. Friends of the family placed him under the care of the Sisters of St. Vincent, who have a convent at Goshen. There he received his early education. As a youth he was employed as a clerk in a railroad office. His good humor and alertness attracted the attention of the late William Murphy, formerly President of the Queen & Crescent railroad. Mr. Murphy brought young Cody to Cincinnati and gave him a place as one of his traveling agents.

In 1898 he married Miss Amelia Ackermann. Soon after his marriage he was appointed soliciting agent for the Senn & Ackermann Brewing Company. He had business ability and made friends wherever he went. His thorough knowledge of the railroad business caused his appointment as traffic manager of the Central Consumers' Company. He was a human dynamo. Hard work had no terrors for him. But his constitution gave way under the strain.

His beloved wife, who so faithfully ministered to him in his long illness, has the sincere sympathy of many friends in her grief.

POSTPONED.

Cornerstone Laying of St.
Augustine's New Church.

The cornerstone laying of the new St. Augustine's church, Thirtieth and Broadway, which was set for tomorrow afternoon, has been postponed for one week and will take place on Sunday afternoon, April 30. This action was rendered necessary by the illness of the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, who is now undergoing treatment at St. Joseph's Infirmary. The pastor, Rev. Francis Felten, says there will be no change in the programme or ceremonies and that they will be carried out on April 30 as originally arranged. Work on the new edifice is being pushed forward rapidly, and it will not be long until the structure is under roof.

AGED RESIDENT DEAD.

The funeral of Matthew Disch, who died at the home of his son, Joseph Disch, 414 West Green street, on Friday of last week, took place from St. Mary's church on Sunday afternoon. The deceased was born in Germany eighty years ago, but had lived in Louisville more than fifty years. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Death resulted from the infirmities of old age.

JEFFERSON

Founder of Democratic Party
Will Have Birthday on Monday.

Owner of Slaves But Never Believed in Tyranny of Any Kind.

Drafted Declaration of Independence and Founded Union.

HELD MANY POSTS OF HONOR

Next Monday, April 24, will be the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, considered the founder of the Democratic party. Thomas Jefferson was born in Albemarle county, Virginia, on April 24, 1743. His views and writings on political subjects have influenced more Americans than those of any other man who essayed politics. The consensus of public opinion is that Thomas Jefferson as a man and an American is in the class with Washington, Lincoln and Franklin. He was a contemporary of George Washington and later succeeded to the head of the United States Government.

From his childhood the mind of Thomas Jefferson assumed a high elevation and took a broad and expansive view of men and things. He was educated at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, and was always found at the head of his class. For assiduity and untiring industry in the exploration of the fields of science he had no superior. Michael Carroll, the only one on the sick list, who was operated on in Chicago, was now convalescent at his home in this city.

Announcement was made of Trinity Council's opera, "Princess Bonnie," and upon motion $25 was appropriated for seats for the officers and members of the Choral Club committee, who will witness the performance in a body. An appropriation of $25 was also made for St. Charles Borromeo church bazar and one dozen chickens will be furnished for the chicken dinner to be served next Wednesday.

President Robertson urged all who can to assemble at the club house Sunday, April 30, at 1:45 or to meet at Twelfth and Broadway to take part in the laying of the cornerstone of the new St. Augustine's church.

SUCCESS

Cast Its Shadow Ahead Production of Trinity Council's Show.

"Princess Bonnie" Will Play to Crowded Houses Next Week.

Able Amateur Artists Will Sing Melodious Airs to Tease the Ear.

FINE PERFORMANCES PROMISED

The banner nights of the season at Macaulay's Theater will be next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when Trinity V. M. I. Musical Club will present "Princess Bonnie," a comic opera from the pen of the famous William Spenser.

The three young ladies who will be seen in the cast hardly need introduction as their past record speaks for itself. They are Misses Effie McDonald, Frances Schranz and Mayme Hinkel. Miss McDonald, who will sing the role of Bonnie, has a strong, brilliant soprano voice, which is well suited to this particular role. Her singing of the "Lullaby" and "Dreaming of Love," the famous waltz song of the opera, is very effective. Miss McDonald has appeared in local concert work many times and will no doubt make a fine impression in opera. Miss Frances Schranz, in the soubrette role of Kitty Clover, the belle of the village, has a part that fits like a glove. It will be remembered that Miss Schranz was seen last year in the opera "Mocking Bird," taking the role of Manon, and so beautifully did she sing and act this dainty part that a professional actor who happened to be in the theater at the first performance pronounced her to be one of the most charming and capable soubrettes that has come to his notice, either professional or amateur. The role of Kitty will afford Miss Schranz an excellent opportunity to display not only her charming personality as a sweet soprano voice, but her talent as an actress as well. Miss Mayme Hinkel, who will assay the role of Auntie Crab in the first act, and Donna Pomposo in the second, a mezzo-soprano voice of fine quality, and coupled with a fine stage presence her work in these two distinct roles will stand out very prominently.

The male parts will be handled by Albert M. Herrmann, who will take the part of Shrimps, the champion canoeist, and who is in love with Kitty Clover, and is very much at home in this particular role, which is somewhat difficult to handle. John Hodapp, who is quite a character man, will take the part of Capt. Tarpaullin and keeper of the lighthouse, is well known in theatrical circles in this city for his ability as an actor and possessor of a very brilliant voice. J. Robert Davidson, who has the part of Roy Sterling, who handles the love affair with Bonnie, is particularly adapted for this role and appears to great advantage. Thomas Kennedy will represent the Spanish navy as Admiral Pomposo, and well worthy of note, as his fine baritone voice is hard to excel. Joseph A. Hehemann, who is quite popular in theatrical circles and essays the role of Count Falsetti, an Italian nobleman, master of his part to perfection. He lends considerable expression to his impersonation. Frank E. Crawford is allotted the black face role of Salvador, bodyguard of Admiral Pomposo, and will furnish considerable amusement by his comical impersonations.

The plot deals with the rescue of Bonnie while a child during a storm at sea off the banks of New England by Capt. Tarpaullin; her adoption by the Captain and his sister Susan, and her home at a lighthouse on the coast of Maine, near Bar Harbor; the final appearance of Admiral Pomposo, a Spanish grandee, who proves to be Bonnie's uncle; their departure for Spain and the rescue by her childhood associates at the hour of her marriage ceremony with Count Falsetti, who turns out to be a conspirator against the life of the King of Spain.

The musical work is under the direction of Prof. Leo A. Schmitt, who is well remembered locally for his direction of previous productions. The performances are under the personal direction of P. Wellington Hager, who is very original and capable in the directing of operas. The Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue and the Very Rev. Father J. P. Cronin, V. G., have accepted invitations to be present on the opening day of the opera. Since acceptance of the invitation Bishop O'Donoghue has suffered from illness he still hopes to be present on day evening.

FRENCHMEN

Will Have Big Celebration in Honor of America's Name.

In commemoration of the suggestion published on April 25, 1507, at the little city of St. Die, France, that the new world discovered to the west of Europe should be called America, a Franco-American celebration will be held at St. Die, on June 3, 4 and 5. President F. Baer, Robert Bacon, the American Ambassador; Frank H. Mason, the American Consul General at Paris, and the accredited representatives of twenty-one American republics have accepted invitations to the festival. The principal address of the festival will be delivered by Mons. Cruppi, French Minister of Foreign Affairs. The programme includes a historical pageant, a military display of French troops, the laying of a cornerstone for the erection of a high obelisk called "America's Tower" on the summit of Mount Ormont, overlooking St. Die, the placing of a tablet on the house where the name America first was suggested and a "grand illumination of the town of St. Die in the evening with the stars of America as the chief feature. Many Americans are expected to visit St. Die for the celebration.

FATHER RAFFO BETTER.

The Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo church, was so seriously ill during the first part of this week that it was deemed advisable to remove him to Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital. The peace and quiet of the place worked wonders for him, and Dr. Bernard O'Connor, who is attending him, says Father Raffo is on the high road to recovery. He will be able to attend the exercises attending the opening of his bazar.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS EXCURSION.

The Catholic Knights of America and their Uniform Rank have made a contract with the Southern Railway for an excursion train to Jasper, Ind., on June 11. Jasper is a great Catholic community. The Catholic Knights have been there before, and hospitable entertainment has never failed them.

The Commander-in-Chief of the National G. A. R. is John E. Gilman, a member of St. Hugh's parish of Roxbury, Mass. He has just issued a call for the forty-fifth national encampment of the order, which will be held at Rochester during the week beginning August 31.

MUST GIVE UP BUSINESS.

The Right Rev. James D. Bishop of Davenport, Iowa, has issued orders putting into effect a decree of the Pope requiring all priests to resign from positions which they may hold as officers or directors of banks or other institutions. Similar orders have been issued in other dioceses of the United States.

ONE GLORIOUS EASTER.

From all reports thus far received there is every reason to believe that the heart of every pastor in Louisville must have been filled with joy last Sunday. It was Easter Sunday, a day when many people put on new garments and stroll forth to show them. In the local Catholic churches it was not a question of new garments. It was a matter of clean hearts and souls absolved from sin. Few pastors have cause to complain of the attendance at mass and at holy communion. In some cases whole families approached the holy table at the same mass and in the same church. Mothers, daughters, granddaughters, fathers, sons, grandsons, nieces, nephews, all received the body and blood of our Divine Redeemer. It was an edifying sight in any one church. How great must it have been in the all-seeing eye of God. Surely these happy Easter communions ought to bring blessings to the diocese of Louisville.

TAFT IS SENTINEL.

There is war in Mexico, and rumors of war between the United States and Mexico. There are also shadows of the dove of peace hovering over the Mexican borders. Meanwhile President Taft has taken time by the forelock and massed his troops along the Mexican border. He has not said openly why he did it, but it is presumable that he did it to deter the Mexicans from treading on American coat tails.

Whether Madero or Diaz is the Mexican President is a Mexican question. When Mexican bullets fly across the border and injure and kill people or destroy property in the United States, then it is the duty of President Taft to defend the nation. Reparation for the past and care for the future is the least he can do.

WISE AND DIPLOMATIC.

Some people have been doubtful about the conduct of the Democratic majority in the new session of the House of Representatives. It seems though that a Democratic majority can take care of itself in the halls of Congress as well as elsewhere. Thus far Democratic diplomacy in the National House of Representatives has played its hand with rare skill. The separation of Canadian reciprocity from tariff revision showed the wisdom of Hon. Champ Clark. The Democratic Representatives have formulated a programme that is comprehensive enough to relieve any alarm which might have been caused by too much zeal and too slightly controlled.

The Democratic programme is admirably balanced. The dispatch with which the organization has thus far been able to carry out its measures speaks well for the solidity of the now dominant party. As far as the United States Senate is concerned it is different.

President Taft, a Republican, saw clearly the needs and demands of the people. A Republican House of Representatives refused to sustain him. A Democratic House of Representatives is sustaining him. Will the Republican majority in the Senate also support him? That is a question to which the answer is exceedingly doubtful.

LENGTHY DEBATE PROMISED.

The most important stage of the veto bill was reached in the British House of Commons on Thursday, when the debate began on the second clause of the bill restricting the powers of the Lords. The clause reads:

"If any bill other than a money bill is passed by the House of Commons in three successive sessions, and having been sent up to the House of Lords at least one month before the end of the session, and rejected by the House of Lords in two of those sessions, that bill shall, on its rejection for the third time, be deemed to have been passed by the House of Lords, unless the House of Commons directs to the contrary, be presented to His Majesty and become an act of Parliament on the royal assent, notwithstanding that the House of Lords has not consented to the bill. This provision shall not take effect unless two years have elapsed between the date of the introduction of the bill in the House of Commons and the date on which it passes the House of Commons for the third time."

The discussion of the first clause dealing with money bills, which was passed on Wednesday, did not involve the question of principle, as it was already admitted that the House of Lords did not have the power of veto on money bills. On that question the Tories devoted their vain efforts to pinning the Government to the exact definition of a money bill. Night long sittings are expected in the debate on the second clause.

The English are slow fighters. Just as they stop a game of cricket or business in a bank to drink tea, they put off for years something that might be accomplished in a month. If they are licked they want it done three times in two years. The proposition sounds funny to Americans, but it is very serious to Britishers.

On every hand there are signs of spring. The organ grinder and his monkey are abroad in the land; the baseball season has opened; people are speculating on the Derby; the grass is turning green; trees are budding; last year's open-faced street cars are being dusted and burnished, and the women folks are beginning to talk about spring cleaning. That is the worst feature of all.

We would suggest to Gov. Willson that if he calls a special session of the Legislature, and we hope he will not, the first business be the complete revision of our faulty taxation system, which is retarding Kentucky's growth and prosperity. The State can well wait redistricting until the regular session of the Legislature.

Those members of the Tennessee Legislature who ran away to Alabama deserve severe punishment. They have violated their oaths and merit expulsion. Laws should be passed by every State that would defeat a recurrence of such action as the Tennessee solons have been guilty of.

After the fasting and prayer of Lent, take care that Satan does not enter your heart.

BUSY KNIGHTS.

Many Projects Planned For the Followers of Columbus.

The members of Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, are very busy men these days. Last night they held a reception and dance at the club house, the first social event since the Lenten period. Only members and their ladies, sisters or daughters were in attendance. It was an enjoyable affair from every standpoint.

Grand Knight G. W. Klapheke announces that the council will initiate another big class on May 21. Last Wednesday night Thomas J. Leahy delivered an address on "Charity." Next Wednesday evening Attorney Newton G. Rogers will deliver a lecture on "The Amendments to the Federal Constitution and Origin of the Term Old and New Court." On May 3 Attorney Camden McAttee will deliver an address on "Buddhism." On May 10 John Doyle will make a talk. His subject will be "An Address." On the night of May 17 Harry Swann will have something to say on "Our Relation to the Masonic Fraternity."

The next regular session of the class in salesmanship and advertising will be conducted by P. H. Callahan on the evening of Monday, May 8. Hon. E. J. McDermott will conduct a class in the study of elementary business law, beginning Monday evening, May 15. Two sessions will be held each month. John P. Cassidy, Chairman of the Literary Committee, announces quite a number of new books in the council's library.

NEW COAL HEADQUARTERS.

The new coal yards of the Dougherty & Lanning Company are located at Fifteenth and Magnolia. The company spared no expense in making the yards modern in every particular. The new office building is modernly equipped. The company handles the best grade of Pittsburgh and Yellco coal. With hustlers like Joseph Dougherty and Everett Lanning and such an efficient book-keeper and office manager as E. J. Mann, the firm ought to continue to make rapid progress in the commercial world.

Quite a number of old friends surprised Anthony J. Rawley at his residence on the occasion of his birthday last Tuesday night. There was feasting and fun galore and Mr. Rawley proved a most hospitable host.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hanley, of Crescent Hill, left Tuesday to spend ten days at French Lick Springs.

Miss Margaret Laffan left Monday for St. Louis to attend the wedding of Miss Jean Sweeney and Adrian Paden, which took place Wednesday morning.

Miss Marcella Ford and Harry A. Veeneman, Jr., will be united in marriage in June. The exact date has not been announced. The bride-to-be is the charming daughter of M. J. Ford, the real estate man. Mr. Veeneman is a rising young railroad clerk.

The marriage of Miss Kathryn L. Mazzoni and Charles Buddeke will be solemnized with a nuptial mass at St. Boniface church on Wednesday morning, May 2, and will be one of the interesting spring weddings. Miss Mazzoni is the daughter of Phil Mazzoni and has been a favorite in Italian society circles. The groom-elect, who is a widely known and popular young man, has been receiving congratulations from friends from all over the city.

Miss Margaret Mary Quill and John J. Winn will be united in marriage at St. John's church next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. George W. Schumann will perform the ceremony. The attendants will be William J. Connelly and Miss Virginia McGrath. After supper at the bride's residence, 519 East Jefferson street, Mr. and Mrs. Winn will take a brief honeymoon trip. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Quill and a sister of Sgt. Jerry Quill. Mr. Winn is one of the most popular young men in St. Louis Bertrand parish.

FILIBUSTERS

Continue to Obstruct Veto Bill in British House of Commons.

According to T. P. O'Connor, M. P., the veto bill will have left the British House of Commons before the coronation ceremonies begin. The Tories still talk of compromise, but it is very difficult to see what compromise Premier Asquith could safely offer. If he yielded anything essential his own party would give way, and of course the Irish and Laborites would immediately revolt. However, Mr. Asquith shows no signs of weakening. Filibustering will continue in the House of Commons so long as the drastic clause will permit. The House of Lords will not reject the bill on second reading, but will amend it out of existence.

The demand for Irishmen on the English platforms is as great as in the palm days of Parnell, and the Liberals are as ardent and united in favor of home rule as they were twenty years ago.

On the other hand, it is equally palpable that the old Tory cries of separation and the danker to the religious liberties of the Protestants in Ulster no longer produce any effect on the English opinion. Balfour beat the big Orange drum this week, and will continue to do so; but a large section of even his own followers have a quiet faith in Irish home rule as the beginning of Federal home rule and of a closer union of the whole empire.

Thus it is clear that, except by a small section of irreconcilable Ulster Orangemen and of the old school Tories, like Lord Hugh Cecil, even the Tory fight against home rule is half hearted.

Thos. H. Roger

Mr. Thomas H. Roger, one of the wealthiest and most prominent sugar manufacturers of the South, will be treasurer of the company. Although Mr. Roger is now treasurer of a million-dollar company and has large interests in Louisiana, he will come to Louisville to help make the Central National "the biggest and best life insurance company in the South."

Mr. Roger will be an acquisition to the financial and business interests of Kentucky, and will help this company control the life insurance of his home State. Thus the company will bring to Kentucky a valuable citizen, his money, and also the money of his friends for investment; and through his influence a large volume of insurance will come here instead of going to the North and East.

The State of Louisiana is paying out annually for life insurance over five million dollars.

CALDRON

Of Politics is Now Boiling Hot in Our Dear Old Peaceful Kentucky.

Democrats are Warring and Republicans Have a Battle Royal.

But One Candidate is in Danger of Defeat By His Friends.

JUST WAIT AND TAKE NOTICE

The witches that brewed the peculiar broths while awaiting the time to adulate "Macbeth as Thane of Cawdor and King that is to be" must have transferred their affections to Kentucky. Surely in political matters this is a scene of "Double, double toil and trouble. Fire burn and caldron bubble."

Politically Kentucky is all torn up. There are factional fights in both the Republican and Democratic parties. Judge Adams, of Cincinnati, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination as against James McCreary. Senator Thomas Paynter and Congressman Ollie James are engaged in a newspaper duel, and the editor of the Louisville Evening Post and the editor of the Herald are having a Mexican battle over who is to be the Republican nominee.

This latter phase of the situation is humorous and particularly gratifying to the Democrats of Kentucky. The Republicans have a bunch of candidates and near-candidates for Governor. The result promises to be a battle royal with each one lambasting the others. The man that takes the most punishment will be awarded the pie.

The editor of the Post is championing Judge O'Rear and is holding the water bottle for him. You know Judge O'Rear is a pronounced prohibitionist and water is the strongest beverage he takes. Judge O'Rear is unquestionably an able man and a staunch partisan. At the same time the Judge is a man of strong prejudices. When Gov. Willson undertook to prevent the destruction of life and property by calling out the State militia to put down the night riders Judge O'Rear assailed him in a public speech and declared that Anglo-Saxons could never be driven by bayonets. Judge O'Rear proposes to open his campaign at Hopkinsville, the town in which the night riders wrought the most destruction. With Editor Knott as jockey and the night riders as backers Judge O'Rear feels that he can win.

The Herald seems to be for any body to beat Judge O'Rear. It says nice things about Lieut. Gov. Cox, Hon. E. T. Franks and Ed Morrow. Mr. Morrow is a nephew of Senator William O. Bradley. Kentuckians are not generally given to approving nepotism. Mr. Cox has proven an able lieutenant to Gov. Willson, and there are many who believe the Governor will throw his influence to him. Ed Franks is very strong in Western Kentucky. He has held both legislative and executive offices and has friends all over the State. Messrs. Cox, Morrow and Franks are thankful because the Post is opposing them.

The Custom House and Postoffice politicians as to a man opposed to Judge O'Rear; yet they are not united on any other man. Wait and see the fun when the Republican primary in Jefferson county is over. The editor of the Post is a Republican now. On the morning after the primary, when the O'Rear boom has been squelched, the Post will accuse everybody and everything in the party of duplicity and treachery. It is time for Judge O'Rear to pray "Lord, deliver me from my friends."

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.The Ancient Order was organized in this country in 1836, making this the year of its diamond jubilee.Division 3 of Cleveland, Ohio, has increased its membership 50 per cent. within the past twelve months.State President Dillon has been promoted to the position of Chief Inspector of public grounds at Boston.Division 1 is to be congratulated on the success of its initiation. A few more such will greatly increase the membership in Louisville.The members of the order must not forget the May dance of the Ladies' Auxiliary, which will be one of the nicest ever given in this city.At Lowell, Mass., last Sunday, Division 19's degree team initiated a class of 200. Every division in the county had candidates in the class.Michael J. Markham, President of Division 1, of Lowell, Mass., has been further honored by election as President of the Lowell Lodge of Elks.Boston Hibernians had a solemn mass of requiem celebrated for deceased members of the order in Suffolk county at the Cathedral on Wednesday.Nothing for a long time has so impressed the Hibernians of Minnesota as the reception tendered the State and county officers by the juvenile auxiliary of St. Paul.The only Louisville division to meet next week will be Division 4 on Monday night. The business will be interesting and important, and it would please President Hennessy to see a large attendance.Despite the rains there was a good attendance at the meetings of Division 2 Wednesday night. It is likely that in the near future this division will have an initiation, as quite a number of applications are promised.

BOOST BAZAR

For New St. Vincent de Paul Parochial School.

Everybody is expected to boost the bazar for St. Vincent de Paul's new parochial school, which will open Monday afternoon in the school hall at Shelby and Oak streets and continue until May 2.
For several weeks Rev. Father Thome and the people of the parish have been hard at work arranging for this bazar, and the programme is an interesting one. It includes afternoon and evening euchre and lotto games, coffee socials, suppers, luncheons and numerous attractive booths. Special nights have been set apart, beginning Monday with the Knights of St. John and followed in order by the Catholic Knights of America, Young Men, St. John's Benevolent Society and Columbia Athletic Club, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Hearts of Oak Club, Contractors' and Everybody's night.
Upon any of the nights there will be a hearty welcome for the Hibernians or Y. M. I. who may attend. There will be entertainments of various kinds and a pleasant time for all who spend a few hours at this bazar, by which it is hoped to greatly aid Father Thome in his work for Catholic education.

COL. WINN HOME.

Col. M. J. Winn, manager of the New Louisville Jockey Club, arrived in Louisville on Wednesday after a long trip through the South, West and North. He was as far south as the city of Juarez, Mexico; as far west as the Pacific coast, and as far north as Winnipeg, British Columbia. As soon as he arrived in Louisville he went to Churchill Downs to inspect the improvements in progress there. Col. Winn states that the coming Derby will be the greatest ever and he predicts the largest crowd in the history of the track.
He also announces a free field on Derby day.

REMEMBERED BY FRIENDS.

Friends of Capt. Michael A. Wall, the popular Chief of Police of Jeffersonville, surprised him on Wednesday evening by presenting him with a solid gold watch charm.
On one side of the charm is a large diamond. His monogram is on the reverse side. The gift was made in honor of Capt. Wall's forty-first birthday.

dition of Mrs. Andrew Connell, Jr.,

May.

There was much enthusiasm Monday night at the meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., when the rival green and gold contest teams presented four more applications for membership and the obligation was taken by Messrs. Martin Kalaher, John Hession, Matthew Muldoon and James O'Brien. Incidentally Capt. Thomas Quinn presented four emblems of the order to members of the teams who are swelling the ranks of Division 3. President D. J. Coleman occupied the chair and had read a letter from State President Donnelly, of Covington, in which he stated that he would pay an official visit to Louisville during the month of May. It was the general opinion that a reception by the division that meets while he is here.

Only one member, James Quinn, was reported on the sick list. The Literary Committee reported that arrangements had been made for entertainments at the Globe Theater on May 3 and 17, for which there will be special programmes. The degree team announced—ready for the visit to Division 1, and President Coleman urged all the members to accompany them. Interesting addresses by ex-State President Butler, John Morris, P. T. Sullivan and Sergeant John Maloney brought the meeting to its close.

PLANS FORMED

For Big Euchre by Friends of Cedar Grove Academy.

A most enthusiastic gathering of the former pupils and many friends of Cedar Grove Academy was held last Sunday afternoon in the hall of the academy to arrange for the coming entertainment to be given for the purpose of raising funds for improvements and changes in the academy. Founded in 1846, Cedar Grove may be pointed to as one of the landmarks of Louisville, and during all these years she has stood as one of the leading Catholic educational institutions in the city. There are many old pupils of the academy in the city, and many of these may now have grandchildren who are pupils in the same rooms where years ago they struggled over their Caesar, just as these girls are doing now. During all these years a request for outside assistance has never been made, and from the interest and enthusiasm shown in the present undertaking it is safe to predict that the coming entertainment will be a great success.

It was decided to hold the entertainment on the afternoons and evenings of May 15 and 16, and in connection with the euchre there will be other games and a sale of handsome needle work, much of which has been made by the Sisters. At the meeting last Sunday Mrs. Minnie Bosche was chosen Chairman, and she has appointed several committees to take charge of the different departments. Among the ladies composing these committees are the following: Mesdames Barbara Reutenwald, A. Reutenwald, A. Ulrich, Sophia Stoerr, K. Neale, A. Charlton, M. Quinn, Misses Mary Conroy, F. Hubbuck, Theresa Hubbuck, Katherine Murphy, Louise Bannon, Lena Schwoebel, Mary Howley, Addie Dillon, Celeste Trevelin, Alice Butler, Tillie Barr, Irma Bosche, M. Erwinne, Mary Zoerner, Mary Alma Hughes, Alice Webb, Cleo Charlton and E. Evers.

The pupils at present in attendance and their friends who will lend their aid toward making the affair a great success are Misses Grace Pflanz, Wilhelmina Ulrich, Elizabeth Neale, Esther Paine, Flora Reutenwald, Addell Heffernan, Ida May Schwind, Rosa Reutenwald, Clara Reutenwald, Marie Schlemmer, Ruth Fisher, Elvira Miller, Frances Webb, Marie Louise Michot and Olivia Silberberg. The following young men have promised to assist: Messrs. Adolph Reutenwald, Otto Reutenwald, Lambert Silberberg, James Gleason, Harry Gleason, Frank Higgins, Bernard Schlemmer, Will Kelly, Joseph Herrmann, James Cunningham, Firman Bosche, Carl Fisher and Henry Reutenwald.

MOTHER CALLED HOME.

In the death of Mrs. Fannie E. Schmitt the parish of St. John loses one of its most devoted members. Death came to her on Wednesday morning after an illness of more than a year. She bore her ailments patiently and her only regret in quitting the world was that she was leaving her husband and children. Previous to her marriage the deceased was Miss Fannie Waltring. Her husband, Frank Schmitt, and seven children survive. The funeral took place from St. John's church, where she had been baptized, made her first communion and was married, on Friday morning.

No more spells. From Yalesville, Conn., writes Mr. J. F. McGovern, Sept. 8, 1916, that his daughter, 14 years old, was so nervous she could not attend school. The doctor treated her over 3 months, but without success. Then he used Koenig's Nerve Tonic and two bottles had the desired effect.

Mr. Chas. Wittman, 9 Chatam Square, New York, was sick from heart disease, fever and fainting. Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic benefited his case very much and he is very well satisfied with the result.

Mrs. A. Thomas, Winfield, N. Y., was troubled with dizziness and weakness for three months, few doses of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic relieved her and after taking one bottle she had no more attacks.

BASEBALL.

Louisville to Crosses Bats
With St. Paul Team
Today.

St. Paul's aggregation of ball players will cross bats with the Colonels at Eclipse Park again this afternoon and will finish the series tomorrow. After that Louisville's team will be away until May 3. The St. Paul team is a strong one, but the members are a little slow in getting their stride.

Local fans are showing their loyalty to the Colonels by attending the games regularly. Old Jupiter Pluvius has interfered several times, and unfortunately neither management nor umpire can keep him out of the park. The fans are also warming up to the new players. On every hand one hears that Lennox is the best third baseman Louisville has had in years, and that Hayden is the greatest right-fielder the club has ever had. The Colonels will play at Kansas City and Milwaukee next week, and during the first week in May will perform in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

FIRST HOLY COMMUNION.

A large class of children will receive first holy communion at St. Joseph's church on Low Sunday, April 23. There will be more than 150 in the class.

AVENUE THEATER.

"The Lion and the Mouse" will be the attraction at the Avenue Theater all next week. This modern drama of Charles Klein is full of heart interest. It has been presented in Louisville before, but it never fails to attract crowds. Matinees are announced for Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

MOTION PICTURES.

New and seasonal motion pictures are promised for the Orpheum and Casino Theaters during the coming week. All their pictures are clean, wholesome, amusing and instructive. The management takes particular care of the comfort of the patrons of both play houses.

HOPKINS' THEATER.

The management of Hopkins' Theater promises another high class vaudeville bill in connection with its moving pictures next week. All the vaudeville features are new and novel and new films will be run every day. Hopkins' never fails to attract crowded houses at every performance.

Y. M. I.

Unity Council Maps Out
Work For Coming Season.

Unity Council, Y. M. I., of New Albany, one of the most progressive Catholic bodies in Indiana, has taken steps in the direction of the erection of an addition to the club house at 805 East Main street at a cost of $7,000. With a view of aiding in raising funds for the proposed structure the "Five Thousand Dollar Committee" has arranged to give a June fete at the club house June 15, 16 and 17, which will be an elaborate affair. The council has also engaged Glenwood Park for its Labor day picnic, the proceeds from which will go to the building fund.

Tomorrow Unity Council will celebrate its sixteenth anniversary. The anniversary of the council comes on April 26, but Sunday has been set apart as "Y. M. I. day," when the event will be celebrated. A feature of the observance will be the initiation of a large class. A large number of notables in the Y. M. I. work from Louisville and different parts of Indiana are expected to be present. Among the number are Robert T. Burke, Supreme Vice President; C. A. Slinger, Supreme Secretary; Maurice J. Scanlon, Chairman of the Board of Supreme Directors; Cornelius J. Lannan, Grand President; and Joseph C. Schreiner, Grand Secretary.

At 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning the members of the council will attend services at Holy Trinity church, after which open house will be kept at the club house until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the initiation will be held. At 7:30 o'clock night services will be held at Holy Trinity church and the Rev. Father Kalaher, of Louisville, will deliver the sermon.

SILVER JUBILEE.

Friends of Father Thome Rallied in His Honor.

The programme arranged for the jubilee of Father A. J. Thome was carried out exactly as planned. On Easter Sunday evening he received the congratulations of his adult parishioners, and on the morning following he heard the childish greetings of the children. Tuesday was the real anniversary of Father Thome's ordination and the clergy of the diocese were out in force to make it a success.

After the mass the Rev. Father Ruff delivered a sermon that made a deep impression on all who heard him. He told, in epitome, the life story of Father Thome. He praised, but did not flatter the jubilarian.

The good wishes of so many friends have given new life to Father Thome. He believes he can finish his new parochial school with the aid of his old and new friends.

THEY LOSE.

Ancient Order Seceders
Given a Decisive Setback.

The attempt of the Board of Erin, with headquarters in Great Britain, to obtain control of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America has resulted in a setback at Philadelphia on Monday, when Judge Ferguson handed down a decision in the Court of Common Pleas upholding the claims of the minority members in Division No. 3. Two years ago sixty-five members of the division decided to sever their connection with the Ancient Order of Hibernians and unite with the Board of Erin. Seventeen members objected and brought a bill in equity against the majority asking for an accounting of the funds and other property. The court held that "while the seceders are a majority of the division they are not a majority of the whole order, and will have to account to the minority for the funds which it is alleged they have sequestered." Thus ends a perille attempt upon the part of a few men to bring factionalism into the greatest Catholic national organization the world has ever known.

LOW SUNDAY.

Tomorrow is known among English speaking Catholics as "Low Sunday." To the Germans it is known as White Sunday. The name "Low Sunday" emphasizes the solemnity and the Sunday which ends the octave. The name given the day in the missal and breviary is "Dominica in Albis," because then the newly baptized wear their white garments for the last time.

LIMERICK'S BAZAR.

Arrangements for the bazar in aid of St. Louis Bertrand church are progressing rapidly. The bazar will be held at St. Louis Bertrand Hall from May 15 to 21. The combination books are being rapidly disposed of. Among the new donations to Father Clark for the bazar are a diamond ring worth $150, and a ten-months' course and a five-months' course in business colleges. The committees are meeting twice and thrice a week. The people of Limerick will enlist their friends all over the city to help make the bazar a success.
